

Raquel Garbers is the Director General of Strategic Defence Policy at the Canadian Department of National Defence. In this role, she serves as the lead architect for Canada's forthcoming Defence Policy Update and leads teams dedicated to geostrategic analysis, below-threshold-conflict strategic/tactics, and strategic military effects. Raquel is also an adjunct faculty member with DKI APCSS, where she works with colleagues to advance initiatives of importance to the Indo-Pacific security environment.